RECOMMENDATION OF THE MAGISTRATE JUDGE

This case is before the court on a 42 U.S.C. § 1983 complaint filed by Plaintiff, an indigent state inmate incarcerated at the Bibb Correctional Facility in Brent, Alabama.<sup>1</sup> Under 28 U.S.C. § 1915, a prisoner may not bring a civil action or proceed on appeal in forma pauperis if he “has, on 3 or more occasions, while incarcerated or detained in any facility, brought an action or appeal in a court of the United States that was dismissed on the grounds that it is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the prisoner is under imminent

<sup>1</sup> Plaintiff initiated a § 1983 complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama on April 10, 2018. Marable v. Corizon Health Care, Civil Action No. 7:18-CV-573-VEH-SGC (N.D. Ala.). On May 2, 2018, that court directed Plaintiff to file an amended complaint, and he did so on May 15, 2018. The amended complaint asserted claims of inadequate medical care and treatment and named as defendants Nurse Odom, a nurse at the Bibb Correctional Facility in Brent, Alabama, and Dr. Dubose, a physician at the Easterling Correctional Facility in Clio, Alabama. After entering an order directing Defendants to file a special report, the court in the Northern District determined that Plaintiff’s allegations of deliberate indifference against Dr. Dubose were legally distinct from his claims of improper medical care against Nurse Odom and thus misjoined under Rule 20(a), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Accordingly, the United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama entered an order severing and transferring Plaintiff’s cause of action against Dr. Dubose to this court. The captioned action was filed with this court on July 16, 2018. Because the instant suit is separate and distinct from the suit filed by Plaintiff in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama, by order of July 18, 2018, Plaintiff was directed to either file the $400 filing and administrative fees or a request for leave to proceed in forma pauperis. Plaintiff filed a request for leave to proceed in forma pauperis on August 10, 2018. Doc. 32.

danger of serious physical injury.”<sup>2</sup> 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). Consequently, an inmate in violation of the “three strikes” provision of § 1915(g) who is not in “imminent danger” of suffering a serious physical injury must pay the filing fee upon initiation of his case. Dupree v. Palmer, 284 F.3d 1234, 1236 (11th Cir. 2002).

I. DISCUSSION

Court records establish that Plaintiff, while incarcerated or detained, has on at least three occasions had civil actions and/or appeals dismissed as frivolous, as malicious, for failure to state a claim and/or for asserting claims against defendants immune from suit under 28 U.S.C. § 1915.<sup>3</sup> The cases on which this court relies in finding a § 1915(g) violation are: (1) Marable v. Crowder, Civil Action No. 2:94-CV-1137-SCP (N.D. Ala. 1999); (2) Marable v. Crowder, Civil Action No. 2:96-CV-91-WMA (N.D. Ala. 1996); and (3) Marable v. Strange, Civil Action No. 2:14-CV-1960-WMA (N.D. Ala. 2015). This court concludes these summary dismissals place Plaintiff in violation of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g).

“General allegations that are not grounded in specific facts which indicate that serious physical injury is imminent are not sufficient to invoke the exception to § 1915(g).” Niebla v. Walton Correctional Inst., 2006 WL 2051307, *2 (N.D.Fla. July 20, 2006) (citing Martin v. Shelton, 319 F.3d 1048, 1050 (8th Cir. 2003)). “The plaintiff must allege and provide specific fact

<sup>2</sup> In Rivera v. Allin, 144 F.3d 719, 731 (1998), the Court determined that the “three strikes” provision of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), which requires frequent filer prisoner indigents to prepay the entire filing fee before federal courts may consider their cases and appeals, “does not violate the First Amendment right to access the courts; the separation of judicial and legislative powers; the Fifth Amendment right to due process of law; or the Fourteenth Amendment right to equal protection, as incorporated through the Fifth Amendment.” In Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 216 (2007), the Supreme Court abrogated Rivera but only to the extent it compelled an inmate to plead exhaustion of remedies in his complaint as “failure to exhaust is an affirmative defense under the PLRA . . . and inmates are not required to specifically plead or demonstrate exhaustion in their complaints.”

<sup>3</sup> This court may take judicial notice of its own records and the records of other federal courts. Nguyen v. United States, 556 F.3d 1244, 1259 n.7 (11th Cir. 2009); United States v. Rey, 811 F.2d 1453, 1457 n.5 (11th Cir. 1987); United States v. Glover, 179 F.3d 1300, 1302 n.5 (11th Cir. 1999) allegations of ongoing serious physical injury, or a pattern of misconduct evidencing the likelihood of imminent serious physical injury, and vague allegations of harm and unspecific references to injury are insufficient.” Id. (internal quotations omitted) (citing Martin, 319 F.3d at 1050; White v. State of Colorado, 157 F.3d 1226, 1231 (10th Cir. 1998)).

Here, Plaintiff files suit against Defendant Dr. Darbouze alleging this physician denied him adequate medical care and treatment during his incarceration at the Easterling Correctional Facility from 2009 to 2017. The court has carefully reviewed Plaintiff’s claims against Defendant Darbouze. Even construing all allegations in favor of Plaintiff, his claims do not entitle him to avoid the bar of § 1915(g) because they do not allege nor indicate that he was “under imminent danger of serious physical injury” when he filed this cause of action as required to meet the imminent danger exception to the application of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). ). Medberry v. Butler, 185 F.3d 1189, 1193 (11th Cir. 1999) (holding that a prisoner who has filed three or more frivolous lawsuits or appeals and seeks to proceed in forma pauperis must present facts sufficient to demonstrate “imminent danger” to circumvent application of the “three strikes” provision of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g)); Lewis v. Sullivan, 279 F.3d 526, 531 (7th Cir. 2002) (noting the imminent danger exception is available only “[w]hen a threat or prison condition is real and proximate, and when the potential consequence is ‘serious physical injury.’”); Abdul-Akbar v. McKelvie, 239 F.3d 307, 315 (3d Cir. 2001) (“By using the term ‘imminent,’ Congress indicated that it wanted to include a safety valve for the ‘three strikes’ rule to prevent impending harms, not those harms that had already occurred.”).

Based on the foregoing and Plaintiff’s failure to pay the requisite filing and administrative fees upon initiation of this case, the court concludes this case is due to be summarily dismissed without prejudice. Dupree, 284 F.3d at 1236 (emphasis in original) (“[T]he proper procedure is for the district court to dismiss the complaint without prejudice when [an inmate is not entitled] to proceed in forma pauperis [due] to [violation of] the provisions of § 1915(g)” because the prisoner “must pay the filing fee at the time he initiates the suit.”); Vanderberg v. Donaldson, 259 F.3d 1321, 1324 (11th Cir. 2001) (same).

II. CONCLUSION

Accordingly, it is the RECOMMENDATION of the Magistrate Judge that:

1. Plaintiff’s motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis (Doc. 32) be DENIED; and
2. This case be DISMISSED without prejudice for Plaintiff’s failure to pay the filing and administrative fees upon his initiation of this case.

It is further

ORDERED that on or before September 19, 2018, Plaintiff may file an objection to this Recommendation. Any objection filed must specifically identify the factual findings and legal conclusions in the Magistrate Judge’s Recommendation to which Plaintiff objects. Frivolous, conclusive or general objections will not be considered by the District Court.

Failure to file a written objection to the proposed findings and recommendations in the Magistrate Judge’s report shall bar a party from a de novo determination by the District Court of factual findings and legal issues covered in the report and shall “waive the right to challenge on appeal the district court’s order based on unobjected-to factual and legal conclusions” except upon grounds of plain error if necessary in the interests of justice. 11th Cir. R. 3-1; see Resolution Trust Co. v. Hallmark Builders, Inc., 996 F.2d 1144, 1149 (11th Cir. 1993); Henley v. Johnson, 885 F.2d 790, 794 (11th Cir. 1989).

Done, this 5th day of September 2018.
